

100 years old

The crowd packed in tight to witness the official ceremony.

The speech by the Mayor, Mr. D. Crone was perfect for the occasion. It merely stated what was necessary along with pertinent comments.

The plaque is covered by the flag.

And the plaque is revealed as a simple reminder of passing the one hundred year mark.

Mr M.L. Standish had only a few words to say before.....

.....breaking a bottle of champagne over a peg and "naming the town Inglewood" in the same manner as had his grandfather before him, 100 years ago.

The Head Boy at Inglewood High took part in the official ceremony too,

Harley Wisnewski is congratulated by Mayor Crone after the completion of his ride and the handing over of mail-bags.

Mayor Crone and Mr Standish lead the parade.

This horse and buggy was a vivid reminder for many older people of days gone by.

Members of the Pony Club dressed in costume and joined the parade.

The past was relived when those in the parade dressed in the costumes of a hundred years ago.

Harley Wisnewski rode out from New Plymouth with the Centennial mail and with a letter of greeting from New Plymouth's Mayor to Inglewood's Mayor.

Mary Gyde and Mrs Morrison took their places in the parade in appropriate costume.

The ladies rode side saddle as in days of yore.

The town begins to develop. Streets are formed and trees felled. The town was literally hewn from the bush as can be seen in this picture which would be taken probably in the 1880's. (picture courtesy Alexander Turnbull Library).

people who were there

A friendly word to Bill Gyde's pony from Ben Corney.

Peter Austin had a really "woolly" beard.

Harley Wisniewski gives a friendly word to his horse after completion of his "Pony Express" ride.

Caught doffing his hat in greeting is the area's MP, Mr D. Thompson.

Mr. Cheyne sported a Rip van Winkle type beard.

Mrs J. Horton and Mr P. Ayles, both of Inglewood took part in the parade.

CHESS

One of the events at the Inglewood Centenary was a Chess match. The match was played on a Saturday in the Council Chambers at Inglewood and our camera pictures some of those participating and the concentration evident on their faces.

"Now mate, I've really got you cornered".

"Just one slip boy and I've got you trapped".

"I don't like this at all. I'll have to rethink my play".

"If I move that way he's got me — now I wonder??"

Allan Bennett studies his opponents move carefully.

A cool breeze and odd showers kept these girls well wrapped up but it didn't deter them from "cooling off" with ice-creams.

Each team erected a tent for their own headquarters and changing rooms. This team's tent was crowned with a hairy ape!!!!

Members of the Naumai Marching team from Hawera practise team work prior to taking their turn in the competitions and after it is over (right) relax and watch opposing teams compete.

This Wellington team went through their paces under the close eye of the judge. We thought they were pretty good but the judge wasn't quite so kind.

Taranaki Marching Champs.

The North Island Marching Championships were held at Inglewood this year and combined with the Centenary Celebrations of that town. The Championships were held over a two day period and attracted entries from far and near. It was interesting to note that most Taranaki teams acquitted themselves well in the Championships.

Two marchers enjoy a bag of chips while keeping a close watch on their opposition.

Joy Step from Hawera came first in the display section. They also gained a second place in falling in & inspection.

Waitara's Cliftonettes gained a first place in the falling in and inspection section.

The Cherokees from Inglewood gained a second place in championship leader. They gained second place in champion team.

Up from Wanganui for the Championships were the Pioneer Kilties.

DOWN....the batsman slips and falls, he missed the ball as well.

Well hit by batsman Richard Clark. The fieldsmen are sent scurrying after the ball with an excellent hit. Later Clark manages to swipe his foot but played on regardless taking his runs on one foot with help from the bat.

MAYOR Crone catches the ball in professional style.

Mayor Crone appears to say as his out on a catch.

CENTENARY CRICKET MATCH

As a prelude to the Inglewood Centenary, a series of sports events were held including this 'fun cricket match' between the Mayor's Eleven and Inglewood Eleven. The match had some quite hilarious moments and although it was delayed by rain and then interrupted by showers the match had to be one of THE events of the Centenary.

AWKWARD.....though it may seem the batsman blocks the ball.

RAIN.....It rained at "Lords" in Inglewood so they covered the pitch and retired for refreshment.

MORE STAGE SHOWS COMING

Hot on the heels of his announcement that the stage show 'Gaslight' is to play New Plymouth, next month, comes a statement from promoter Philip Warren that two more stage shows will perform at New Plymouth in the near future.

The first to play her is the Barbara Windsor show. This show, called 'Carry On Barbara' plays the Opera House on March 20th. Barbara Windsor's Show will be followed by a two day season on March 21st to 22nd by the 'Merry Minstrel Show'.

The latter features many of the stars from the Black & White Minstrel Show and both shows will undertake national tours of New Zealand.

So for show lovers, it looks as if March is going to be a fantastic month with three productions playing in New Plymouth.

WORST COMMERCIAL

This month's nomination for the Worst Commercial of the Year Award, is the 'Gee Oh Gee' commercial. This commercial, aimed very obviously at children, plays on the aspect of cheating, namely drawing away the attention of the batsman. This is considered to be in very poor taste and a bad example to children.

NEW ALBUMS

JOHN ROWLES.....Live Back Home.....PYE 2-2003.

It used to be a milestone in the career of a singer or a group when they released a double album. It was also a milestone when a performer released a 'live' album. This release by John Rowles is both a double album and its a 'live' recording. However for John himself the most important aspect of this release is, I would think, the fact that it was recorded during a triumphant return tour of his native New Zealand.

The album was recorded during his performance at 'His Majesty's Theatre' in Auckland and while it features in either medley form or as a full number, most of the hits that Rowles has released during his career, it also gives prominence to other material that he performed during his tour... material like The Letter, You Are The Sunshine of My Life and a Maori medley.

There is also 'live' evidence of what makes an international

There is also 'live' evidence of what makes an international performer, namely his rapport with the audience and it is obvious that the audience loved John. This was a fairly ambitious recording project for the PYE Company and it has certainly 'come off'. No doubt this double album set will be released in some form overseas and this is surely a mark that our recording industry in this country has 'come of age'.

MARTHA REEVES

MARTHA REEVES.....MCA 7427.

If you expect to hear the Martha Reeves of the famed Motown sound, then forget it, this is virtually a different girl.

Admittedly she still uses girl voices in her backing but the Martha Reeves image and her material has been changed. Somehow she has more 'oomph', more vitality in her work — is less restrained.

Much of this may be due to the fact that she feels happier working with her new producer, Richard Perry. Whether it is Perry, or whether she has more freedom in her choice of material and in how she delivers her song the fact is that the Martha Reeves we hear on this new album is a much happier one who is more exciting to listen to.

HARRY NILSSON.....Pussycats.....RCA CPL-1-0570G

Produced by ex-Beatle John Lennon, this album by Harry Nilsson reflects a great number of Lennon influences — in fact there are times when you'd swear it was Lennon singing and not Nilsson. There are other times when one feels certain that Lennon is singing harmony with Nilsson. It is an excellent album, of that there can be no doubt. Nilsson has that happy knack of taking a well known song and changing it to make it sound that it was originally written especially for him, or even by him. Songs that fall into this category are 'Save the Last Dance For Me' and 'Rock Around the Clock'.

BUDGIE.....In For The Kill.....MCA 7413.

This new Budgie album does not differ greatly from the groups previously offered work. Their sound is uncompromisingly heavy. Its an aggressive hard rock sound that groans and whines and growls, yet at times shows touches of musical brilliance, only to revert again to an almost monotonous repetition of heaviness that leaves you feeling that you've heard it all before so many times.

Budgie are one of the few surviving heavyweights who haven't bothered to change or progress. In many ways this is a pity for the group have the talent to produce better things as is evidenced on one track on this album — a quiet and at times touching number called 'Wondering What Everyone Knows'.

PRESENTATIONS

The Highlands Gymnastics Club held their end of year break-up in the Highlands Intermediate Assembly Hall. The actual prize-giving ceremony was preceded by a display by members of the club. This display featured both Junior and Senior members and while some of the movements were basic, senior members displayed their ability at more advanced movements.

Tony Robinson works out on the vault.

reunion

Members of the Tamati Family held a family reunion at the Mururapata Hall in Bell Block at New Year. Members of the family came from near and far, some from Wellington and some from the South Island. The event was a very friendly affair and was noticeable for its lack of formality. On New Years Day a service was held by Bishop Paul Reeves and a christening took place.

Minnie Matuku, Rua Tamati and Tui Aubrey.

Pal Nuku and Amy Pratt.

Music makers Don Porter and Willy Pihama

Mrs Reeves Snr, Pehimana Tamati, Te Auripo Tamati, General Lance Taputoro and Ana Katene.

Eva Eriwata, Ramiri Waipa, Thomas Hati, Hannah Jackson and Emma McLean.

Mrs Reeves Snr, May Oorthius and Mrs Paul Reeves.

Judith Barnard places the crown on the head of the 1975 Miss Brooklands.

Miss Brooklands

Just under three thousand people attended the Bowl of Brooklands for the crowning of this years Miss Brooklands at the beginning of this month. The entertainment billed for the evening did not have "across the boards" appeal and as a result those who attended were treated to a type of entertainment which they obviously enjoyed. It was however noticeable that the audience consisted mostly of older patrons and they made a highly receptive audience for the offered fare.

To many, the stars of the show were the Napi Waaka Choral from Patea.

The finale to the crowning. The new Miss Brooklands, Linda Beautrais, stands in front of a gigantic fan, flanked by her two maids, Beverley Fraser and Wendy Armstrong.

Last years Miss Brooklands, Judith Barnard, waits on a floating stage for the crowning ceremony, while entrants in this years contest flank the stage area proper.

For the first time in any Miss Brooklands contest there was an entry from Hawera. She was Denise Lowther.

Trevor Bremner performed a bracket of numbers as a trumpet soloist.

Malvina Major sang a bracket of songs in her own well known style. Realising towards the end that she had lost part of her audience she closed on "Shearer's Jamboree" which brought her a big round of applause.

The show ended with a short fireworks display.

The Hammond Family worked very hard to impress the audience - in fact almost too hard.

PHILLIPINO BAND

The second Phillipino Showband to perform in New Plymouth recently were the Royal Flush Showband who had a two week season in the Westown Hotel. Phillipinos have a reputation for being great showmen and excellent musicians and this band was no exception. Royal Flush didn't have a big stage act but they were first rate musicians and gave patrons a taste of the musical entertainment that hotel patrons on the international circuit expect.

FLOOD

Recent flash flooding in Hawera caused some anxious moments, especially for the shop owners. Many shops were quite badly flooded and of course streets were well awash with water, some from one side right to the other.

Staff at the Farmers were kept busy with the clean-up.

WINNERS.....Pictured above are members of the Egmont Athletic team upon their arrival in Palmerston North a few weeks ago. The team were in Palmerston North to compete in the final round of the Central Districts Athletics League track and field events. The Egmont team won the competition when they beat Hastings by half a point.

Carnival

The annual Kaipokonui Carnival was held last month and drew a far greater crowd than did last year's Carnival. One of the highlights of the Carnival was the beauty contest and pictured on this page are several of the place-getters in various sections.

Patricia Pollard (left) won the three to five years beauty section. Dianne Jones (right) and Linda Stampa (middle) came second and third respectively.

Ellena Saris was the winner of her section with Janine Bournez second and Jeannette Graham third.

We have heard unofficial first results of the New Zealand teams first fights against the Oregon State team via a letter from California. According to the letter New Zealand lost their first match 7-3 and won their second match 6-4.

TAIL-LESS.....Mark Fredericks and Ian Gulbransen speared this tail-less stingray last month at Waipi Beach. It is believed that the sting-ray was caught once before and that its tail had been broken off to prevent it injuring swimmers.

SOME CATCH.....Messrs Jim Howell and Baden Lane were fishing off Ohawe Beach last month for small fish when this 205 pound shark hooked himself on the line. After a four hour fight between Mr Howell and the hooked shark, the 10½ foot "monster" was finally beaten and brought to shore.

ATHLETIC MEETING.....Pictured above are Wendy Brown (with her child) and Norman Reed, both of whom were present in Hawera for the recent Central Districts Athletic League Meeting at Hicks Park.

A COLLECTION.....Andrew Clancy and Ross Hughson both returned to Hawera a few weeks ago with a large collection of scout badges. The badges were collected by the boys when they attended their first jamboree.

IMMENSE.....This huge Lily was one of things that 'just grew' in the garden of Mrs J. Upson of Auroa. The huge bloom is in fact a mutation with several stalks having joined together to form a large stem.

Bridge

In January each year, the New Plymouth Bridge Club hold a Summer Handicap Tournament at Bridge House in New Plymouth. This year thirty six pairs took part in the tourney with some entries from Wanganui and further afield. Winners of the tournament were Mrs N. Hudson and Mrs N. Robertshaw.

Mrs N. Priest makes her bid and waits.

Miss C. Jones, came second in the tourney with Mrs S. Jones her partner.

concert

Something over a thousand people went to Pukekura Parl one Sunday evening last month to listen to a concert by members of the New Plymouth Country and Western Club. The club considered the concert to be such a success that they hope to stage another show next year. The actual concert consisted of numbers by the whole group plus individual songs from members and a very talented trio who completely stole the show.

The big crowd were able to relax on the seats in the cool of evening and enjoy the concert.
