CARILLON NEARLY READY

It is likely that by the time you see this picture of the carillon on Marsland Hill, you will have heard the first sounds of it. This gift to the city from Mr George Kibby will ring its message over the town, and will no doubt become a tourist attraction. We'd like to have a little bet that some folk will be complaining about the noise if they peel out at siesta time.

ENGAGEMENTS

Above: DAVIS - CROW. Lesley, younger daughter of Mr and Mrs L.G. Crow, New Plymouth, to Rex, only son of Mr and Mrs J.W.Davis, New Plymouth.

Below, Left: GEORGE - BENNET. Althea Pearl, only daughter of Mr and Mrs Bennet, Inglewood, to Philip Raymond, eldest son of Mr and Mrs L.R.H. George, Tarata. (Vogue Studios)

OUR COVER

We had a lot of fun getting this cover picture of Carol Land, jumping on the other end of the see-saw to give Carol the necessary lift. It took a few tries to get what we wanted, still, we had a lot of laughs, and Carol got a bruised situpon. Lively though, isn't it? It was taken at a Fitzroy playground with a sizable audience too.

BACK COVER. The power station chimney looks so much larger and more impressive in colour than it ever looked in black and white. This photograph was taken from the viewpoint a little way up the slopes of Paritutu.

NEXT ISSUE: 2 JULY.

WHO WILL BE MISS NEW ZEALAND?

The thirteen finalists in this year's Miss New Zealand competition appeared at the Farmers Co-op. before their two-night show at the Opera House. As to who the winner will be, with all these lovelies, your guess is as good as ours. ABOVE, FROM LEFT—Miss Southland, Carmen Evans; Miss Otago, Margaret Graham; Miss West Coast, Rosemary Nolan; Miss Canterbury, Cheryl Hopkins. BELOW, FROM LEFT—Miss Wellington, Elly Grannetia; Miss Horowhenua, Carron Forster; Miss Golden Shears, Janine Maroulis; Miss Manawatu, Sally Beach.

These are the thirteen lovelies who make up the contestants for this year's Miss New Zealand title. There's no doubt about it, lovelies they are, and we have no fear that the judges are in for a hard time choosing the eventual winner. We've got a sneaking regard for one or two of them. How would you go about picking the winners? Think you can? If you can name the first three we'll give you a year's subscription to "Photo News," value $3.80. Send your entries to Editor, P. O. Box 427, New Plymouth.

SUPER DRAGSTER

ABOVE—On show in New Plymouth to promote Wynn's products, is the Wynn's Winder dragster. It reaches a speed of 260 m.p.h. in 6.5 seconds, which is pretty fast and dangerous. Wonder if this will give the New Plymouth boys some ideas — you never know what you might see in the future cruising down Devon Street at 200 m.p.h! Might be an idea to give the Transport Department a few to use on the weekends.

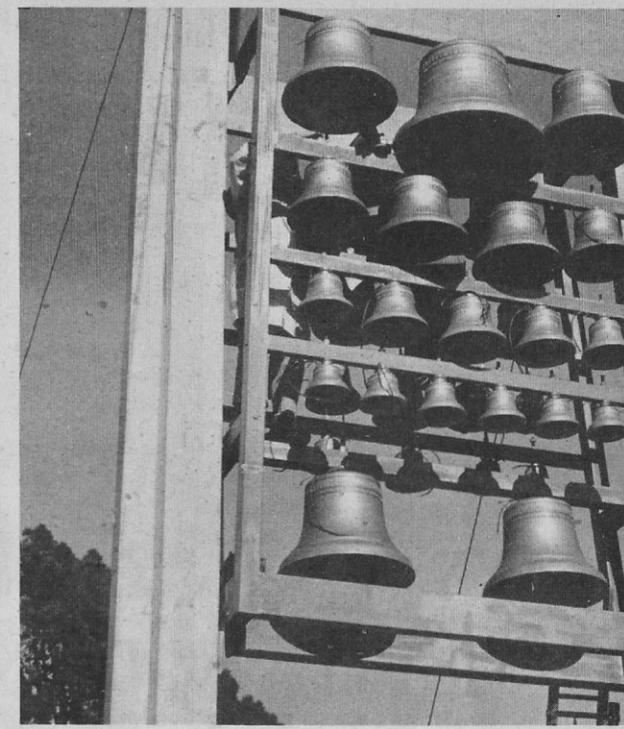

Left: STUCK—THOMSON. At St Joseph's Catholic Church, New Plymouth, Anne Barbara, fourth daughter of Mr and Mrs D. W. Thomson, New Plymouth, to Clifford Bruce, only son of Mr and Mrs L. E. Stuck, New Plymouth. The bridesmaids were Anne Perrett, Te Awamutu, Lyndsay Jones, New Plymouth, and Wendy Russell, New Plymouth. Best man was Peter Horton, New Plymouth, and the groomsmen were John Brennan and Paul Morson, both of New Plymouth. Future home, Palmerston North.

Right: ARTHUR—TUCKER. At St Andrew's Presbyterian Church, New Plymouth, Margaret, second daughter of Mr and Mrs H. Tucker, New Plymouth, to Wayne, only son of Mr and Mrs J. Arthur, New Plymouth. The bridesmaids were Robyn Harvey, Christchurch, and Lynette Tucker, sister of the bride, New Plymouth. Best man was Phil Valentine, New Plymouth, and the groomsman, Ray Rowson, New Plymouth. Future home, New Plymouth.

Left: MARTIN—HAMILTON. At Knox Presbyterian Church, Fitzroy, Christine Hamilton, second daughter of Mr and Mrs A. Devonport, New Plymouth, to Murray, fourth son of Mr and Mrs J. Martin, New Plymouth. The bridesmaids were Cushla Boyle and Linda McMahon, both of New Plymouth. The best man was Graeme Redman, New Plymouth, and the groomsman, Malcom Harding, Kaponga. Future home, Auckland.

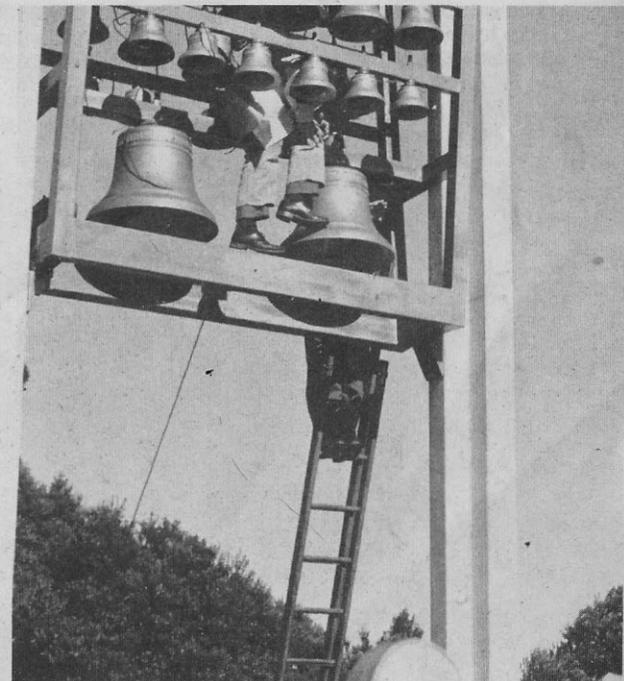

There are many brides under the impression that ALL photographers supply Photo News with wedding pictures — this is not so. Only Norman Squire, Vogue Studios and David Paul do this — without charge, too. If you want your wedding published, please ring 6101 and we'll have a photographer at the church to get that important picture. This will cost you nothing.

DING, DING, THE BELLS WILL RING

The carillon at Marsland Hill, now completed, will soon be heard all over New Plymouth. The 37 bells can be played both manually and automatically and will ring out famous songs, hymns, folk songs and carols.

SCHOOL WAS NEVER LIKE THIS

Gone are the days when kids stayed at home and got in mum's hair during the holidays, and with all the activities organised by the Y.M.C.A., it's a wonder they've been home at all. Although few of the children were experienced gymnasts, they all made good use of the trampoline, horses, mats and other equipment under the supervision of senior members.

ABOVE—From left to right: Geoffrey Parker — flying high. Not all the kids were competent gymnasts. Tarzan — Colin Lister. Glen Crozier flips on the trampoline. RIGHT—Stephen Benniston tries out the trampoline in an odd fashion. BELOW—The equipment was used to capacity. BELOW CENTRE—Sandra Oke thought that chewing her cardigan would keep her in the air longer. BELOW RIGHT—Pamela Marshall helped the younger kiddies.

For a couple of hours on many afternoons the Y.M. stadium was a hive of screaming, falling, tumbling excited kids, and each of them thought it was the best fun they'd had during their holidays. By the looks on their faces, we're inclined to agree.

ABOVE—From left: Roger Reardon enjoyed playing on the springboard. Some had trouble getting down. Some had trouble getting up. Debbie Barnes was a little hesitant on the trampoline. LEFT—The ropes were a popular activity with the kids, as they swung from the sides of the stadium. BELOW—From left: Michael Klenner trains to be a jack tar. Padda tennis was enjoyed by all. This boy's was an upside down world. Here's a young lad plucking up enough courage to have a go on the trampoline.

MARRIED

Left: MITCHELL—OLSON. At St Mary's Anglican Church, New Plymouth, Susan Margaret, daughter of Mr and Mrs H. E. Olson, New Plymouth, to John, son of Mr and Mrs J. Mitchell, New Plymouth. The matrons of honour were Wendy Johnstone and Diane Wallace, both of New Plymouth. The best man was Alan Mitchell, brother of the groom, Waverley, and the groomsman was Ian Drewery, New Plymouth. Future home, New Plymouth. (Norman Squire).

Left—SAYWELL—BOLTON. At the Holy Trinity Anglican Church, New Plymouth, Julie Lynn, only daughter of Mr and Mrs M. L. Bolton, New Plymouth, to Murray Alexander, only son of Mr and Mrs A. T. Saywell, New Plymouth. The bridesmaids were Marilyn Barnden and Joanne Corbett, both of New Plymouth. Best man was Donald Crossan, New Plymouth, and the groomsman was Alistar McNeil, also of New Plymouth. Future home, New Plymouth. (Norman Squire).

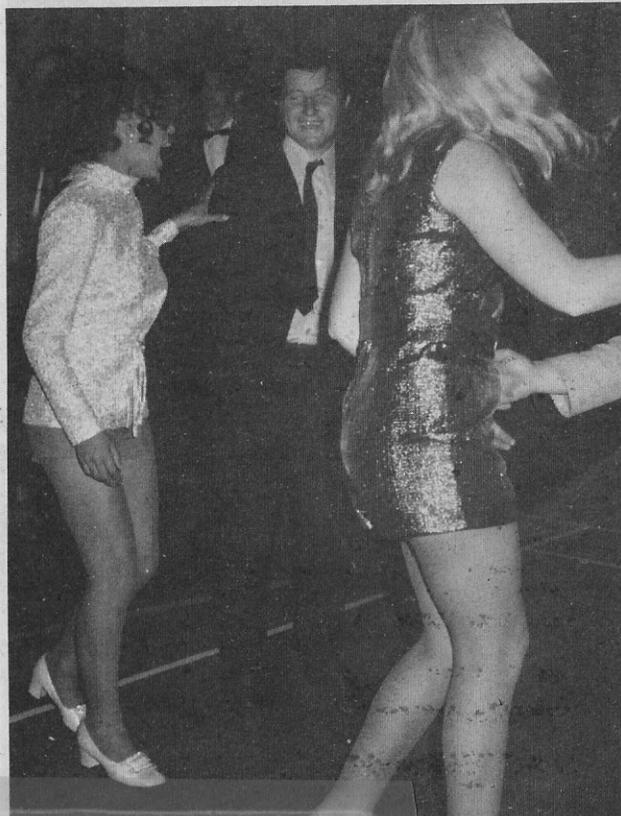

Left: EASTERN—JOHNS. At St Joseph's Catholic Church, New Plymouth, Glenys Barbara, eldest daughter of Mr and Mrs A. H. Johns, New Plymouth, to Tony William, eldest son of Mr and Mrs W. Eastern, New Plymouth. The bridesmaids were Shona Mahoney, Barbara Raynor, and Sandra Johns, sister of the bride, the best man was Ian McMillan, and the groomsman, Peter Cottam, all from New Plymouth. Future home, New Plymouth.

GREAT NIGHT OUT AT WAITARA

There's no doubt about the folk at Waitara. When they organise anything, they make a job of it. This was the case with the Waitara Promotions super cabaret. There was just nothing lacking for this night to be remembered.

The only pity is that this sort of show has to come to any end. Matter of fact, just standing and watching, we couldn't help but notice the happy disposition of everybody at the function. And the assortment of feminine fashion ranged from hot pants through to the more conventional ball gown. ABOVE LEFT—Not seen at balls very often is the trouser suit. ABOVE CENTRE—Chief organiser, jovial Colin King. ABOVE RIGHT—Colin's wag drummer Dennis Taylor. BELOW LEFT—Hot pants are sure becoming the rage, except of course that some men (BELOW) took too long a look!

FUN AT PADDY'S MARKET

With 29 stalls run by local organisations there was something for everyone at Paddy's Market — everything from pies and cakes to old clothes and books. Many hundreds passed through the Queen's Hall during the course of the day, to buy and browse at the stalls, and we might add, there were very few people who came away empty-handed.

Married

Left: HODSON-CORLETT. At St Andrew's Anglican Church, Inglewood, Elenore, fourth daughter of Mr J. Corlett, Inglewood, and the late Mrs Corlett, to Keith, son of Mr and Mrs L. Hodson, Inglewood. The bridesmaids are Anne, Irene and Rita Corlett, sisters of the bride, Inglewood. Best man was Graeme Austin, Inglewood, and the groomsmen, Lawson and Ronald Corlett, brothers of the bride, Inglewood. Future home, Inglewood. (Norman Squire).

ENGAGEMENTS

Above left: JOVANOVIICH-HALLMOND. Marie Ann, second daughter of Mrs J. E. Hallmond, New Plymouth, to Zhivko, second son of Mrs S. Jovanovich, Yugoslavia. (Vogue Studios).

Above: YOUNG-BAKER. Jill, only daughter of Mr and Mrs C. R. Baker, Waitara, to Bruce, younger son of Mr and Mrs T. J. Young, New Plymouth. (Vogue Studios).

Left: COSTER-LIMMER. Lorraine, only daughter of Mr and Mrs R. C. Limmer, Waitara, to Raymond John, eldest son of Mr and Mrs G. Coster, Waitara. (Vogue Studios).

Below left: BALLANTINE-GEORGE. Janice Mary, youngest daughter of Mr R. H. George, Waitara, and the late Mrs T. George, to Bryce Peter, only son of Mr and Mrs W. P. Ballantine, Inglewood. (Vogue Studios).

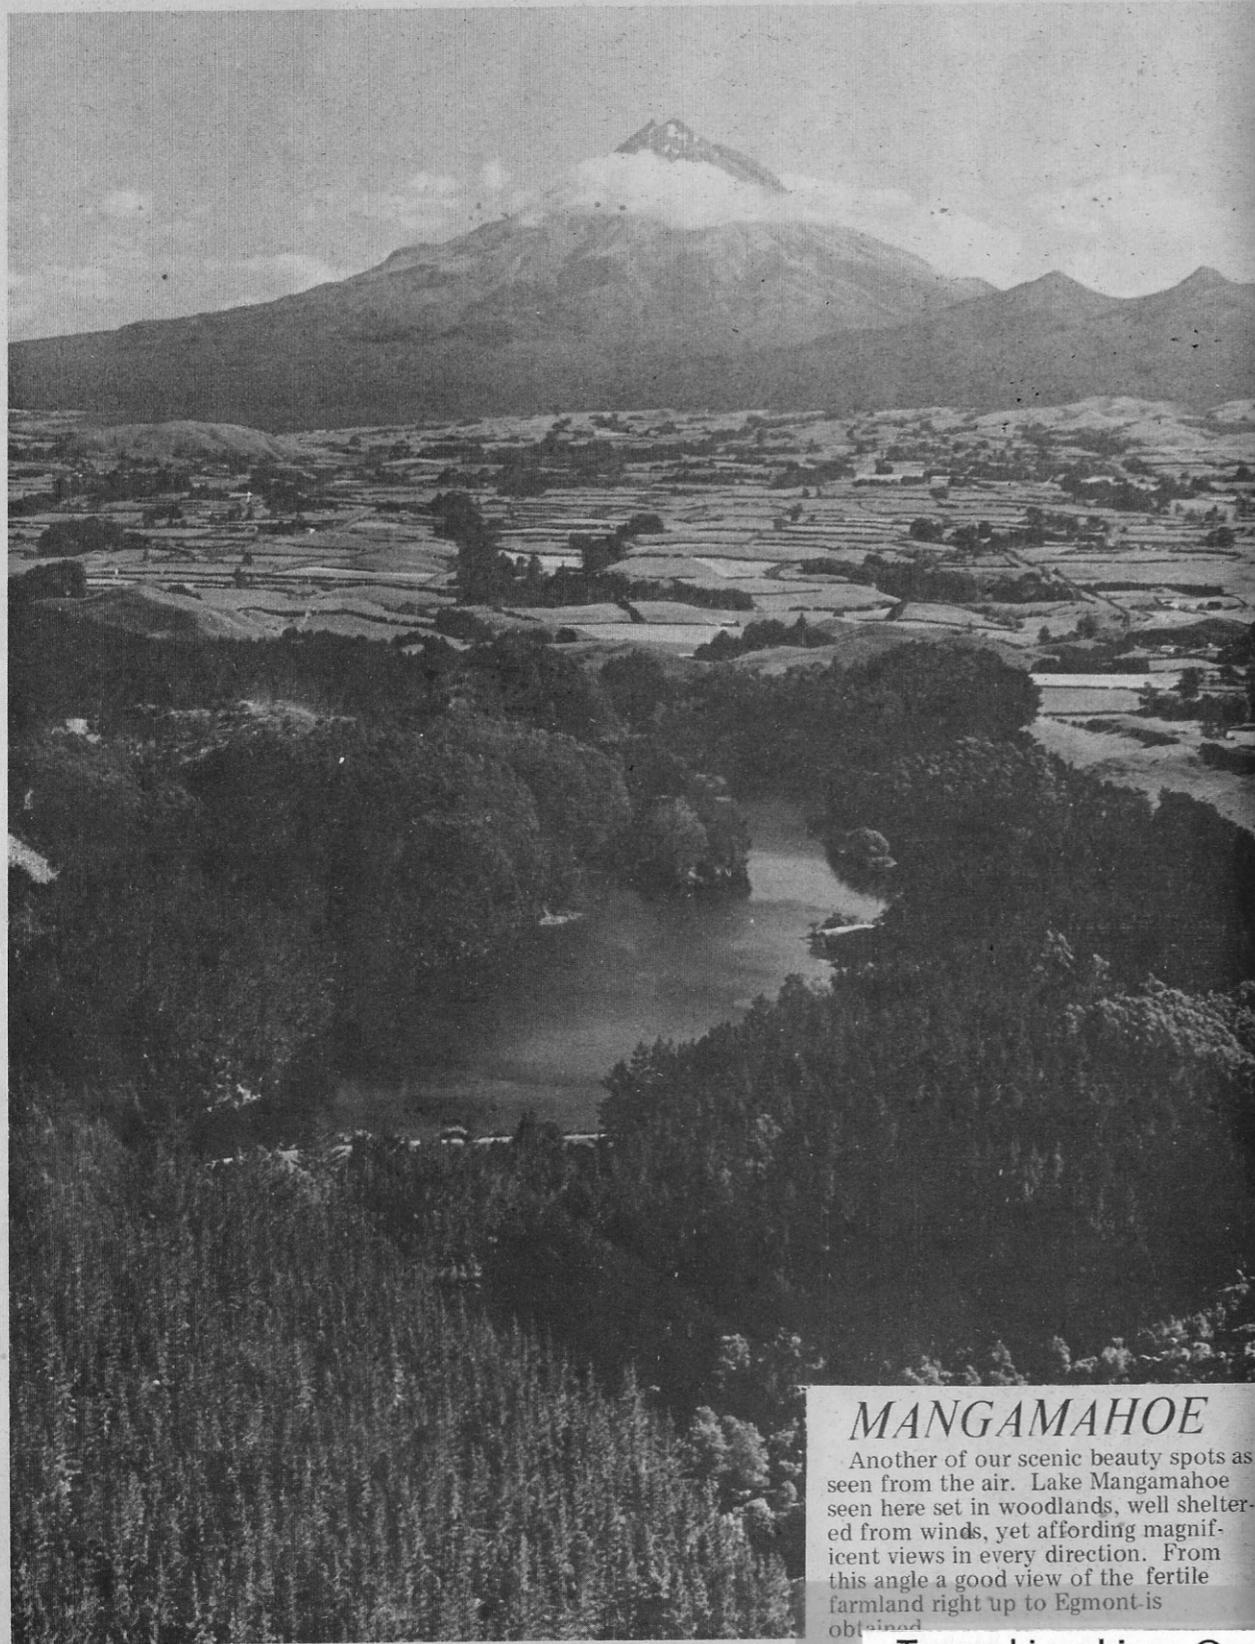

Below: MAIN-EVANS. Dale Ellen, third daughter of Mr and Mrs C. D. Evans, New Plymouth, to Rodney, third son of Mrs E. Main, Urenui, and the late Mr J. Main. (Vogue Studios).

Right: WELLS-FORBES-FAULKNER. At the Holy Trinity Church, New Plymouth, Gay, only daughter of Mr and Mrs K. J. Forbes-Faulkner, New Plymouth, to Jeff, elder son of Mr and Mrs R. Wells, New Plymouth. The bridesmaids were Royce Bint, New Plymouth, and Jill Fulton, Waitara. Best man was Ross Fulton, Waitara, and the groomsmen, Wayne Gunderson, Auckland. Future home, Leperton. (Norman Squire).

Left: EMO-SMITH. At the Baptist Church, New Plymouth, Margaret, daughter of Mr and Mrs K. R. Smith, Brixton, to Paul, son of Mr and Mrs T. Emo, Hamilton. The bridesmaids were Sheryl Smith, sister of the bride, New Plymouth, and Christine Sewell, also of New Plymouth. Best man was Fin Milne, New Plymouth. Future home, New Plymouth. (Norman Squire).

MANGAMAHOE

Another of our scenic beauty spots as seen from the air. Lake Mangamahoe seen here set in woodlands, well sheltered from winds, yet affording magnificent views in every direction. From this angle a good view of the fertile farmland right up to Egmont is obtained.

WINE + CHICKEN = FUNDS Pukekura Kindy Benefits

Plenty of parents and friends attended the Pukekura Kindy Wine and Chicken evening. Seemed to us there was plenty of both eats and drinks, which added up to a good time for all. Funds of the Kindy were swelled by this function, and money will now be available for installing, among other items, new handbasins.

Fun-Ho Meeting For Stockies

Owing to a technicality, the Taranaki stock car championship had to be re-run, on the final meeting of the season. This was the day when all the odds and ends, including mechanics, officials, pushers, Jaycees, ladies and even St John's men, get behind the wheel and have a go at missing the safety fence. Some succeed and some don't, but it's a day of fun for everyone.

Matter of fact the finals of the Gold and Silver Helmets event were also run — believe it or not on push bikes! That knocked all the wind out of the contestants!

TOP—Looks like a queue for the knackers yard, but it isn't. It's a bit congested, and this was the scene at the final stock car meeting of the season at Stratford, as the not-so-proficient drivers took their turn at the wheel. It was a day of fun for both drivers and spectators alike, as cars careered around the track, or nudged each other off the track. ABOVE—This lady driver got tied up with a barrel and though doing her best, was lifted high and dry. ABOVE RIGHT—Lap of honour... what, on a bike! Poor show for Alan Jago. RIGHT—This man won by a street. And this was the way they ran the final of the golden helmet event. BOTTOM—These whizzy little saloon cars get up to some high speeds on the track, all being highly tuned.

MARRIED

Right: SULZBERGER—ELDRIDGE. At Holy Trinity Anglican Church, New Plymouth, Christine Elizabeth, only daughter of Mr and Mrs E. J. Eldridge, New Plymouth, to James Bradshaw, only son of Mr and Mrs G. Sulzberger, Pukearuhe. The bridesmaids were Beth McCullough, Mahoe, and Alison and Dorothy Sulzberger, sisters of the groom, Pukearuhe. The best man was Ryland Sheard, Urenui, and the groomsmen were Allen Sheard, Urenui, and Graeme Penwarden, New Plymouth. Future home, Pukearuhe.

Right: HOLDT—SOAR. At St Mary's Anglican Church, New Plymouth, Pamela, only daughter of Mrs R. F. Soar, New Plymouth, and the late Mr A. J. Soar, to Alan, third son of Mr and Mrs W. Holdt, New Plymouth. The matron of honour was Elizabeth Kohn, New Plymouth, and the bridesmaid, Ruth Gray, Bell Block. Best man was Brian Holdt, brother of the groom, New Plymouth, and the groomsmen, David Newman, New Plymouth. Future home, New Plymouth.

Right: PETRICEVICH—DRAVITSKI. At the Fitzroy Catholic Church, New Plymouth, Kathleen Gwentyth, third daughter of Mr and Mrs J. J. Dravitski, New Plymouth, to Barry Ruka, only son of Mr and Mrs L. Petricevich, Auckland. The bridesmaids were Pauline Schrider, Wellington, Janice Petricevich, sister of the groom, Auckland, and Janice Robertson, New Plymouth. Best man was Brian Andrews, Auckland, and the groomsmen were Kevin McLeod, Auckland, and Clive Thurston, Wellington. Future home, New Plymouth.

TOWNSWOMEN CELEBRATE

WAIWAKA LADIES CLOSE SEASON

With the colder weather drawing near, summer sports clubs are coming to the end of their seasons. This was the case with the Waiwaka Ladies' Mid-week Tennis Club, whose members enjoyed morning tea and a chat before playing a few games of tennis on their closing day.

KINDY GALA

Mums, dads and kids alike had a good time at the Westown Kindy Gala. There were plenty of things to amuse the kids, while mum browsed through the stalls with an eye for the produce, confectionery and other items on sale.

HAPPEN-IN

The Happen-In show at the Opera House proved to be very good family entertainment. With a programme of pop groups, country and western singers, and a fashion parade, the show was varied and enjoyable.

SHOT IN ARM FOR BOXING

A crowd of 600, which must be a record for the Oakura Hall, witnessed some of the best boxing seen in this district for many years. And the contestants kept the audience on the edge of their seats from bell to bell. Congrats to the Oakura Boxing Club, who no doubt will need a larger hall if more programmes of this type are organised.

ABOVE—"Top of the bill" fight was a sizzling 4-rounder between Oakura's Pat Ryan and the Rarotongan featherweight champ, Waka Rima. Pat was just that bit more experienced and won a great fight on points. ABOVE RIGHT—One of the few straight lefts by Waka that found its mark. RIGHT—Another great bout was between national intermediate champ Kelvin Hunt (Oakura) and Feilding's Stuart McKay. BELOW—Ronnie Jackson (Oakura) gained a decisive verdict against a rugged fighter from Wanganui, Ray Gilchrist. BELOW RIGHT—Another spirited fight was between L. Vercoe (Midhurst) and W. Sutton (Feilding).

MAY COMPETITIONS

Competition time is here again, bringing even more competitors, some from as far away as Auckland and Wellington. Dancing, drama, singing, recitation and piano competitions provide good entertainment for locals and visitors to the city.

ABOVE LEFT—A chat backstage always helps to ease the nerves. ABOVE CENTRE—Tracey Snowdon waits nervously in the wings before doing her skipping dance. TOP RIGHT—How's this for an ingenious headdress? FAR LEFT—"Consider Yourself" — Linda Price. LEFT—Karen Ngan Kee waiting in the wings until her time to perform. BELOW LEFT—Mrs McDonald applies daughter Jo-Ann's makeup. BELOW CENTRE—No, this isn't another headdress, but Julie Briscoe with her hair in rags — wonder if it's worth all the trouble? BELOW RIGHT—Ballet dancer Wendy Crow.

C.W.I. B ARTS FESTIVAL

Arts, crafts and a thousand other interesting items were part of the annual C.W.I. Arts Festival, which attracted a large and interested audience on both days of the show. After an official opening, the show started with a make and model parade. Some of the entrants are shown here: ABOVE, from left to right; Barbara Hunt, Ruby Yates, Mrs E. Laurence and Dorothy Maine model the woollen day dresses which they made themselves. RIGHT—Gwen Orchard and Betty Bromley. BELOW LEFT—Valerie Smith and son Stephen. BELOW CENTRE—Nola Pickering. BELOW RIGHT—Compere Cashel Kelly, with the two finalists, Barbara Hunt and Betty Bromley.

Also included in the two-day festival were impromptu speeches, sketches, choral groups, piano solos and plays. Federation branches presented four one-act plays and created pleasure and entertainment for all who saw them. The sets, costumes, casting and acting were on the whole excellent, and no doubt the judge's decision was hard. ABOVE—Wilhemina Riding, one of the cast of the Woodleigh play, "The Christmas Visitor." ABOVE CENTRE—Stage manager Myra Whitehead kept a close watch on things. ABOVE RIGHT—Backstage, Terry Dombroski applies her make-up. RIGHT—A scene from the Westown play, "How Could You Forget?" BELOW—Lois Tidswell, producer of one of the plays, helps Joan Burgess with her make-up. BELOW RIGHT—Joan Gatland needed a little extra padding for her part, and is assisted here by Alison Roydhouse.

CARDIFF CONCERT A WOW!

Ever been to the Cardiff concert? No? Then you don't know what you've missed. Great acts, pretty costuming and a ton of humour make this one of our most enjoyable jobs. This year it was the best ever, one that had continuity and a real professional touch... and all produced and acted by local talent. Top marks to you Cardiff, yours must be a great community in which to live, full of fun and laughs. ABOVE—Opening chorus with solos thrown in, and all with good voices. RIGHT—Fairy sketch, with the chief fairy having trouble with her corsets. BELOW—The disease was contagious for there were bits and pieces coming down all over the stage; BELOW RIGHT—Gypsies ....and good ones, too.

MARRIED

Left: MILLBANK-BEEBY. At St Mary's Anglican Church, New Plymouth, Susan, only daughter of Mr and Mrs A. Beeby, New Plymouth, to John Richard, eldest son of Mr and Mrs R. S. Millbank, Ratahi. The bridesmaids were Janet Gall, Tikorangi, and Paula Neilson, Lepperton. The best man was Graeme Mosen, Reporoa, and the groomsman, Ronald Millbank, brother of the groom, Ratahi. Future home, Palmerston North.

Right: NEWBOLD-UBELS. At St Augustine's Anglican Church, New Plymouth, Anne Irene, eldest daughter of Mr and Mrs H. S. Ubels, New Plymouth, to David Henry, eldest son of Mr and Mrs E. Newbold, Inglewood. The bridesmaids were Margaret Barribal, New Plymouth, and Anne Kerr, Wellington. The best man was Graham Drake, Inglewood, and the groomsman was Tom Stephens, New Plymouth. Future home, New Plymouth.

Left: FOLEY-FEAKINS. At St Mary's Anglican Church, New Plymouth, Carole Faye, second daughter of Mr and Mrs D. C. Feakins, New Plymouth, to Kevin John, second son of Mr and Mrs J. Foley, New Plymouth. The bridesmaid was Marilyn Feakins, sister of the bride, New Plymouth, and the best man was John Leithen, Turangi. Future home, New Plymouth.

ST. MARY'S WORKING BEE

At a working bee at St Mary's Church, volunteers, using everything from hand tools to heavy machinery, continued to re-landscape the area around the church. The grounds are being excavated to fit in with Cherry Walk and Marsland Hill. ABOVE—The big tidy up to make way for lawns. LEFT—Tractors came in handy for the heavy work. BELOW LEFT—Age was no bar — and everybody helped. BELOW CENTRE—Coat rack? BELOW—There were some who were expert at the job.

🎵 HIGH SCHOOLS MUSIC FESTIVAL

The annual post-primary music festival was broken into two separate concerts this year, one at Stratford and the other at New Plymouth. This was good, for it allowed twice as many people to see just what the modern teenager can do. Unfortunately we couldn't get to the New Plymouth segment, but produced here are pictures taken at the Stratford concert, which proved enjoyable and entertaining.

TOP—The combined schools orchestra presented some excellent classical music. ABOVE—Sacred Heart College, New Plymouth, sang folk, classical songs and a hymn. BOTTOM—The Hawera High School had a Maori group — always popular with this type of audience

TOP—The Combined Schools Brass Band made a very good job, considering they had only played together a few times. ABOVE—The string orchestra from Spotswood College. BELOW—Waitara High School provided another Maori group, also very popular with the audience. BOTTOM—The Spotswood choir and instrumental group played a selection from "Porgy and Bess."
