

Recently both the Central School and the Fitzroy School gave great enjoyment to the children when separate fancy dress balls were held. The photographs from these two functions shown on this page makes us wonder just how much rouge, lipstick and eyebrow pencil the mothers had left for themselves. But still thats more than half the fun.

HOW WE WELCOMED THE LIONS

Preceding the Lions Taranaki match at New Plymouth Devon Street became the scene of football fever. Excellent floats of all descriptions, and gaiety and fun from the clowns held the big crowds lining the route in jovial and appreciative mood. Scenes from this are recorded on this and the two subsequent pages.

BANKS - KINSELLA

At St. Josephs, New Plymouth, Shirley Olive daughter of Mr. and Mrs. N. Kinsella, Courtenay Street, New Plymouth, married David, son of Mr. and Mrs. G. Banks, Leeds, England. The bridesmaid was Yvonne Sheehan and Leslie Lewis performed the duties of best man. Future home of the bride and groom is New Plymouth.

The Grovenor Dart Club recently held a social evening a feature of which was a sack line parade.

It just shows you that even Mr. Nordmeyer cannot subdue fashion conscious women.

It's a safe bet to say that we bet many husbands would hope that the more conventional clothing could be made as cheaply as the models on this and the next page.

Hilarity was the keynote when the Stratford Technical High School arranged a staff versus school basketball match. Left The staff team. Mr. Davies, Mrs. and Mr. Pember, Mr. Ryan, Miss Hember, Mrs. Nicholson, and Mr. Pemberthy. Below left The school team in their ultra super sack dress tunics are:- Dale Cave, Ann Davis, Wendy O'Neil, Geraldine Eccles, Dawn Blair, Pam Hunter and Marie Wells (captain)

In contrast to the school team, the staff team seem to have acquired for their attire, just about anything that happened along. One member of the staff confided to the photographer that "if this does not prove the staff are human too, nothing will". Think we'd better leave the pupils to decide.

Since the above action shots show a rugby football in use in this game suppose it's o.k. to take a penalty kick even if the ball is tucked up the back of the tunic of the player bending down (see above)

Other photos show a very nippy side step (centre left) and above Miss Bent who had a very difficult job refereeing becomes a casualty, and by stretcher has a very eventful ride to the side line whilst left players pray for her speedy recovery.
